Kameng Nip 聶嘉明 is graduate student in Applied Mathematics and theoretical Computer Science at Tsinghua. His research areas include combinatorial optimization and network optimization. They deal with questions on computation computational complexity, design and analysis of algorithms. We welcome him as a Mathcamp Coach for Computer Science.