

Laurel Kaye has recently graduated with degree in Physics at Duke University. In her own words: “I wish to pursue research in medical physics or in astrophysics in the future. I also want to be one of the first people on Mars, or promote advances in that direction. I’m originally from Long Island, New York.” Laurel We are happy she can join us as a Mathcamp Coach for our Probability and Statistics course. Laurel will be Coaching for the Physics and Astronomy course at Mathcamp this summer, and we are happy she can join us.
